

Dear Dehai readers,

As you can see from the changes we have made on Dehai we have been working to enhance your experience while visiting the Dehai website. We ask for your continued patience and understanding as we continue to improve Deahi and the services you came to rely upon for the last twenty plus years.

While we employed modern technology to maintain the backend improvement, we have tried to keep the frontend as close as possible to the old Dehai website. This was done in order to maintain familiarity.

Here are some pointers you might find useful:

- Dehai (as opposed to Dehai-news) has been open to host personal feedbacks and opinion articles. Feel free to post ideas for discussions or opinion articles in keeping with the old Dehai's posting guidelines.

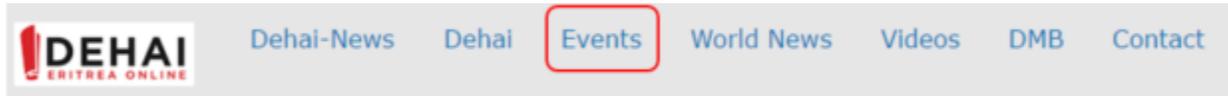

- Notable articles will be displayed on the featured articles box

- Fwd: NUEW-DC: International Women's Day Celebration 2017
- March 8 celebration in Greater Toronto Area.

- Dehai receives community event related images/posters from all over the world on a regular basis throughout the year. These items will be displayed on the Events page.

We have also created an online form where Dehaiers can utilize in order to submit their event posters.

From time to time we will also display a box (on the right hand corner of the website) that displays alternating images of posted events. You may need to scroll down in order to view the Event box.

- The Dehai Message Board (DMB) has also been open and hosting postings contributed by Dehaiers who elect to share their thoughts on the message board.

We will continue to update as we add new functionalities. Feedbacks are welcome.

You can send your feedbacks either to Dehai@dehai.org or if you want to contact Dehai-Admin directly please use the feedback form located under the Contact page.

Thank you.
