2. EU - TURKEY STATEMENT OVERVIEW

On March 18, the European Union and Turkey have agreed on a plan to end irregular migration flows from Turkey to the EU.

The agreement states that:

- From the 20th of March, all persons who do not have a right to international protection in Greece will be returned to Turkey, this action will be based on the Readmission Agreement from 2002 signed between the countries. From the 1st of June the agreement between the EU and Turkey will enter into force and that will be the basis of returns between Greece and Turkey from that point on.
- There will be no mass returns, each individual arriving on Greek shores and applies for asylum will go through an expedited procedure. Those who do not apply for asylum or whose applications were considered unfounded or inadmissible in accordance with the Asylum Procedures Directive will be returned to Turkey.
- In order to create a smooth process, Turkey and Greece as well as the EU institutions and agencies will take all the necessary steps and agree on any necessary bilateral agreements including the presence of Turkish officials on Greek islands and vice versa as of 20 March 2016 in order to ensure the liaison and a better functioning of the return mechanism.
- Member States declare their readiness to provide with a short notice, if needed, border guards, asylum experts, interpreters etc. to Greece.
- The Commission will coordinate all necessary support for Greece, under the EU-Turkey Agreement, and will develop an operational plan.
- The resettlement of Syrians will go under a 1:1 mechanism. Priority will be given to the Syrians who have not previously entered or tried to enter the EU irregularly. The EU will take into account the UN Vulnerability Criteria during the selection process.

The latest EC report on Relocation and Resettlement is available here.

3. RELOCATIONS

Based on the Commission's proposals, the Justice and Home Affairs Council adopted in September 2015, two decisions to relocate 106,000 asylum seekers from Italy and Greece, to assist them in dealing with the pressures of the refugee crisis. Under the emergency relocation scheme, persons in need of international protection with a high chance of having their applications successfully processed (EU average recognition rate of over 75%) are relocated from Greece and Italy, where they have arrived, to other Member States where they will have their asylum applications processed. If these applications are successful, the applicants will be granted refugee status with the right to reside in the Member State to which they are relocated. Following the EU-Turkey agreement of 18 March 2016, the Commission has tabled a proposal on the 21 March 2016 to make available further places for resettlement or other forms of legal admission of persons in need of international protection from Turkey by amending Council Decision (EU) 2015/1601 of 22 September and reallocate 54,000 places which were foreseen for relocation for the purpose of resettling Syrians from Turkey to the EU. The EU Council has endorsed this proposal but the opinion of the European Parliament on the Decision is currently pending.

The relocations should take place over two years (September 2015-2017), with the EU budget providing financial support to the Member States participating.

IOM is implementing the pre-departure health assessments, pre-departure orientation and actual transfer of the beneficiaries in coordination with Italy and Greece as well as the Member States to which relocation takes place.

The European Commission has made available an overview of Member States' support to the EU relocation mechanism. To date, 25 countries have committed to make places available under the scheme, namely Belgium (530), Bulgaria (400), Croatia (46), Cyprus (140), Czech Republic (50), Estonia (210), Finland (1,420), France (4,170), Germany (5,250), Ireland (514), Latvia (394), Liechtenstein (10), Lithuania (550), Luxembourg (270), Malta (99), the Netherlands (1,575), Norway (995), Poland (100), Portugal (1,618), Romania (1,702), Slovakia (30), Slovenia (180), Spain (900), Sweden (50) and Switzerland (1,280) with an overall number of only 22,483 places. Known entry and exit points

The main entry points between Bulgaria and Turkey are border checkpoints Kapitan Andreevo, Lesovo and Malko Tarnovo. Migrants and refugees who are coming from Greece mostly use green areas near Kulata-Promahon checkpoint or available routes in Petrich region. Most migrants and refugees enter Bulgaria from green border on foot. Those coming from border checkpoints usually enter by hiding in buses or other vehicles. Undetected migrants continue their journey via taxis and private transportation to external borders or to big cities to find a means of onward transportation out of the country.

6. HUNGARY

Developments in the reporting period

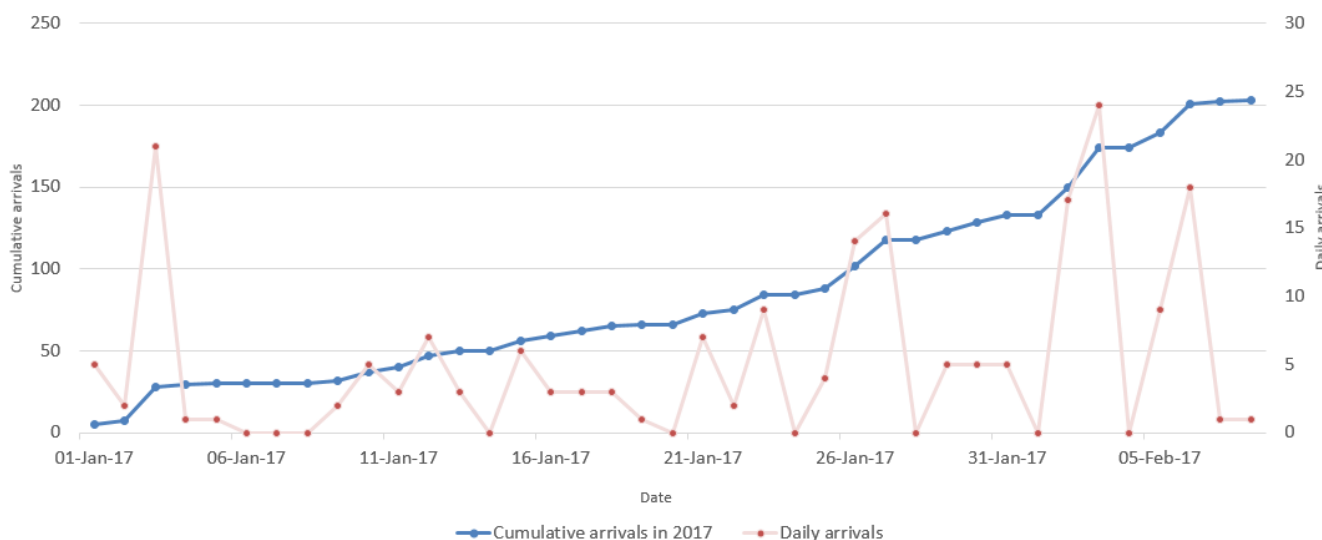

From 01 January to 8 February 2017, a total of 203 migrants and refugees were registered arriving in Hungary.

23 January - The Immigration and Asylum Office (IAO) staff confirmed that more extensive security screening interviews will be conducted with people entering the transit zones, hence the number of admitted migrants is expected to be further reduced to around 5 people per day in each transit zone.

7 February - Zoltán Kovács said (spokesperson of the Prime Minister Viktor Orbán): „We are going to introduce new measure - no migrants, not even those who have achieved their request for asylum, can move freely until there is a final, legal decision whether they are entitled to political asylum for refugee status. They will not be entitled to move freely in the country.”

The waiting period for families to access the transit zones ranges from four to six months, while single men can wait up to seven months. UNHCR observed that IAO at Röszke started to advise asylum - seekers to use a short and standardized form, prepared by IAO, to appeal the inadmissibility decisions. The document is written in Dari and Hungarian and states that the person concerned disagree with the rejection decision and appeals to the court so it does not allow the individual concerned to provide detailed information to the safe third country ground for rejection

Arrivals to Hungary

Irregular Crossings to Hungary (from 9 December 2016 to 8 January 2017)

Accommodation Facilities (with occupancy/capacity) and Border Crossing Points

Known entry points

The border in Hungary has been officially closed since September 2015 with the completion of the fence. The migrants have been able to cross the border only through the official crossing transit points of Tompa and Roszke on the border with Serbia (5 per working day/per transit zone). During the period between 6 January and 8 February 2017, a total of 2,776 migrants have been apprehended while trying to cross Serbian-Hungarian border illegally. 52% (1,462) were prevented/stopped by the border police and 48% (1,314) were returned back to the Serbian side.

7. ITALY

Development in the reporting period

From 1 January to 8 February 2017, 9,355 migrants are reported to have arrived by sea. Despite dangerous sea conditions and colder winter weather, boats departing mainly from Libyan shores keep crossing the Mediterranean. IOM data is adjusted according to the official figures provided by Italy's Ministry of Interior twice a week. According to MOI, Guinea represent the first declared nationality with 1,320 arrivals in 2017 (around 14% of the total), followed by Ivory Coast (13%), Senegal (9%), Nigeria (7%), Gambia (7%) and many other nationalities of Western African and Southern Asia. Interestingly, possibly in relation with a temporary border opening between Tunisia and Libya, more than 500 Moroccan nationals arrived in Italy during the reporting period.

January - IOM took part in the training to the Libyan Coast Guard organized by the EUNAVFOR MED operation Sophia. On 2 February, Italy's Prime Minister signed a memorandum of understanding with Libya's National Reconciliation Government to curb departures from Libyan shores. The agreement provides the grounds for the Libyan Coast Guard to stop boats at sea and bring migrants back to Libyan soil, together with financial and technical provision on reception centres in that country (read more here). On 3 February, a "Malta Declaration" was released ahead of the European Council by EU Member States to set up coordinated actions to curb irregular migration through the Central Mediterranean route (see the whole text here). During the same first week of February, 4,879 migrants arrived to Italy by sea, which is higher than the arrivals for the whole month of February last year.

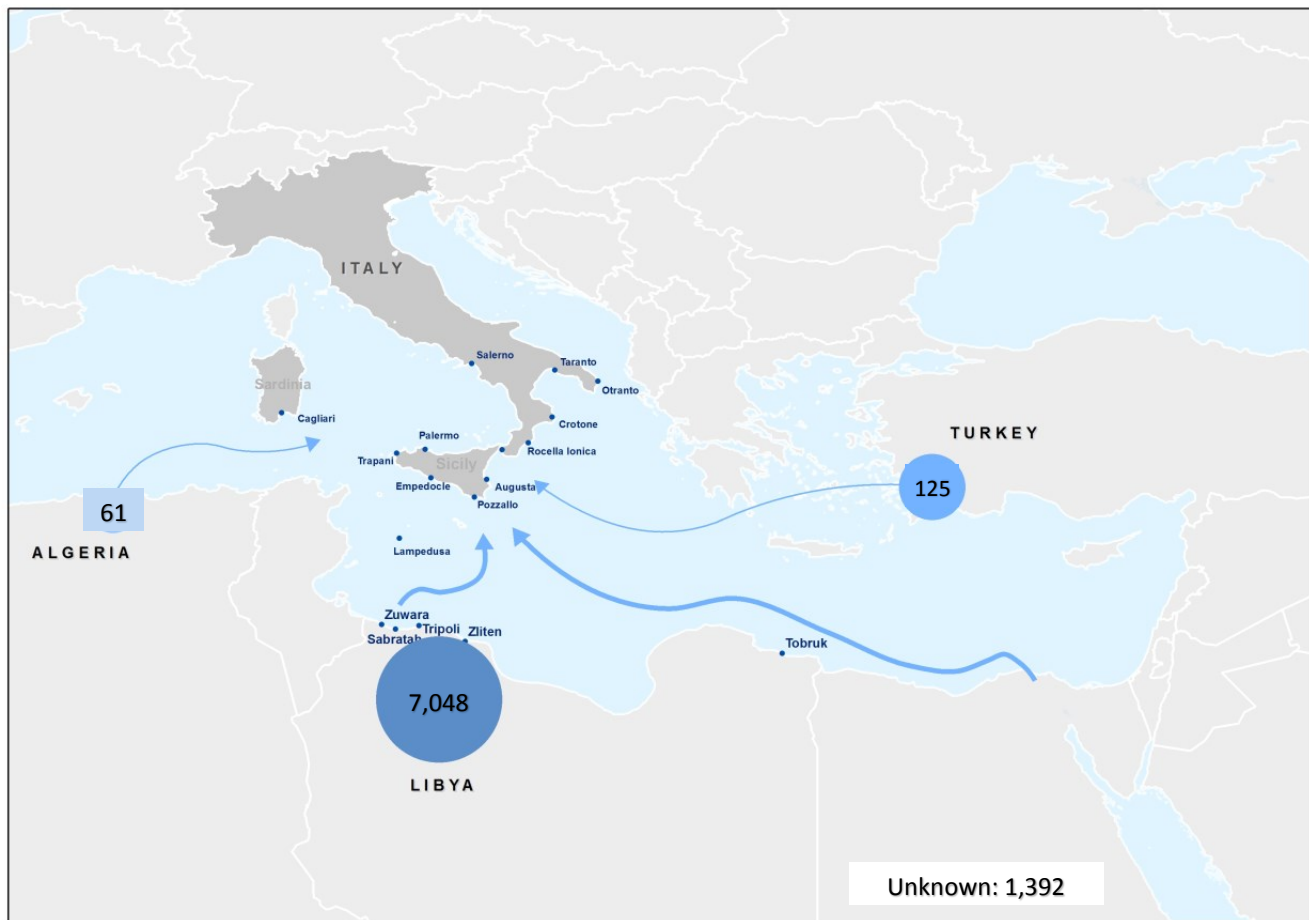

January - IOM and UNHCR have released a joint statement warning EU governments of the risks in terms of human rights violations and abuses connected with the instable and violent situation of Libya (read more here). On the same vein, IOM recalled the urgency of legal migration channels and of protection mechanisms for vulnerable African migrants upon the start of the first high-level meeting to follow up after the Valletta Summit of November 2015, which takes place in Malta on 8 February (read more here).

Sex– age breakdown of arrivals to Italy in the reporting period (12 January 2017 — 8 February 2017) for the sample with available data*

*Sex-age breakdown unknown for 2,299 arrivals out of a total 8,626 arrivals. Figures represent IOM estimates.

Arrivals by country of departure and know entry/departure points during the reporting period (12 January 2017 — 08 February 2017)

Known entry and exit points

Known entry points: Main ports of disembarkation are Augusta, Catania, Trapani, Palermo, Pozzallo and Lampedusa (Sicily), Reggio Calabria, Crotona, Vibo Valentia (Calabria), Taranto and Brindisi (Apulia). During the reporting period, almost all Search and Rescue (SAR) operations were done by NGOs' boats and Italian Coast Guard and Navy vessels. Also, few autonomous landings of sailing boats from Turkey to Apulia and from Algeria to Sardinia continue to be registered (main nationalities: Iraq, Pakistan, Iran, Algeria).

Known exit points: Exit points towards neighbouring countries (France, Switzerland and Austria) are almost totally closed and border guards are pushing backs migrants trying to exit Italy. Hundreds of migrants are reported to be transiting in the bigger cities of Italy towards North (Rome, Milan) as well as hundreds are those reported in the transit cities of Ventimiglia, Como, Udine and Bolzano. On February 5, a train ran over and killed a migrant who was walking along a tunnel between Ventimiglia and Menton. Constant pressure by the Police and local authorities are reported in Ventimiglia, Como and Rome, among others, to prevent migrants to sleep/gather in open and public spaces. The hotspot in Taranto is reported to keep receiving weekly buses of migrants blocked by the Italian Police in border areas of the North.

It is estimated that more than a 1,300 migrants and refugees remain in the open, mostly in Belgrade area. Current overall number of migrants and refugees in Serbia is around 7,800.

23 January - IOM and UNHCR presented on a press conference a new strategy and appeal to help respond to the situation of refugees and migrants in Serbia in 2017. The strategy and appeal for Serbia are part of a bigger Regional Refugee and Migrant Response Plan for Europe (RMRP) covering Turkey, Southern Europe, Western Balkans, and other parts of Europe presented to potential donors in Geneva on 19 January. It aims at complementing and reinforcing the Governments' efforts to ensure safe access to asylum and the protection of refugees and migrants. It also aims to support long-term solutions and orderly and dignified migration management. Strengthened partnerships and coordination will also be given priority in 2017.

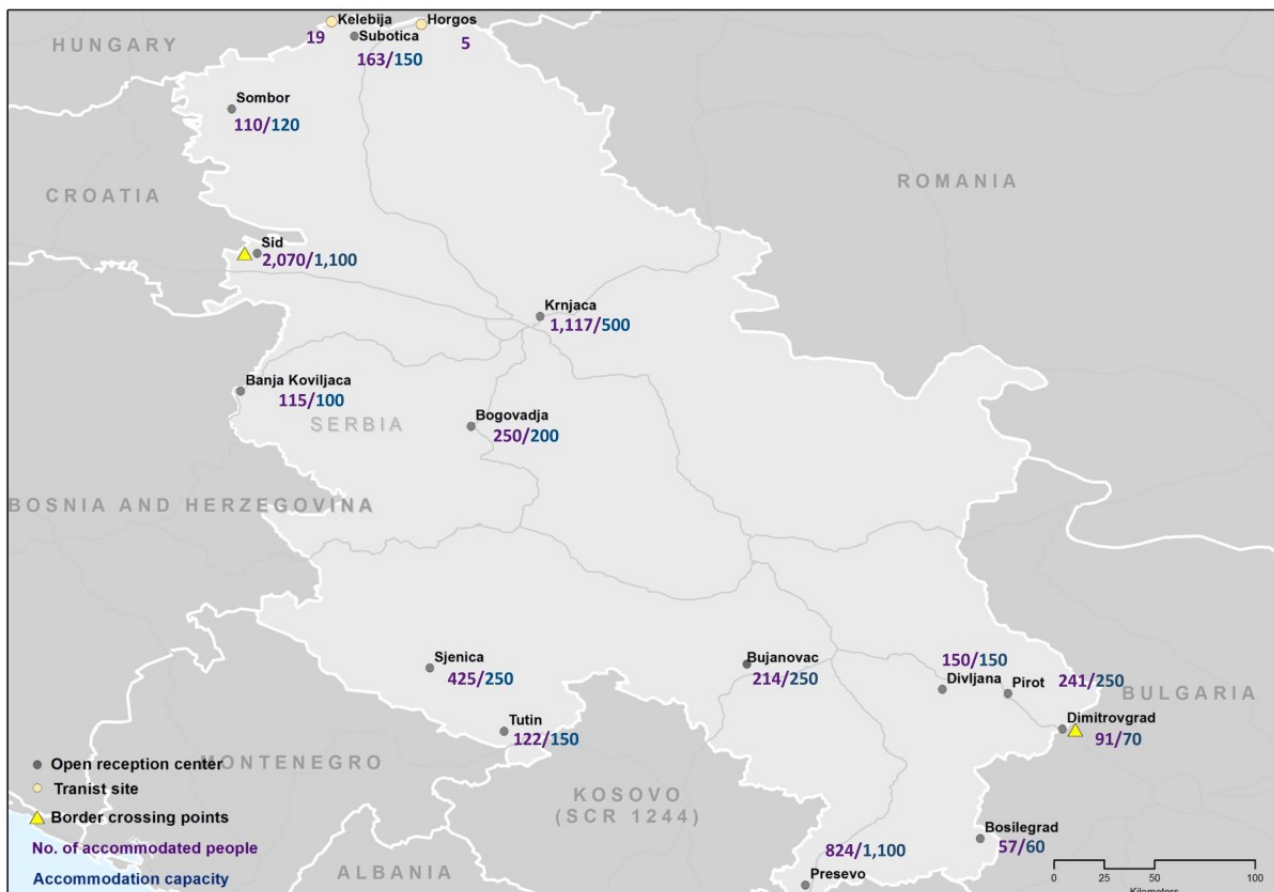

2 February - Accident in Sid train station happened when group of migrants attempted to climb on top of the train tank car. They accidentally triggered an electric wire which caused a explosion of the leftover flammable materials inside the wagon. As result four migrants from Algeria were seriously injured. The migrants were treated for burns in Sremska Mitrovica, and then sent to Belgrade for further medical help. Two of them have suffered life-threatening injuries.

3 February - Another accident took place in the night between 2nd and 3rd February. Group of around 15 migrants and refugees, led by smugglers, were trying to cross over frozen Tisa river to Hungary. Ice broke under their feet and they fell into freezing water. Unfortunately one of the migrants, 22 year old male from Afghanistan drowned.

Development in the reporting period

In 2016 a total of 99,187 migrants and refugees have been registered entering Slovenia. From 12 January 2017—8 February 2017, there were no registered arrivals through official entry points. The most recent arrivals to Slovenia were registered on 5 March 2016 (253).

26 January - The National Assembly discussed the amendment of the Aliens Act and adopted it with 47 votes for and 18 votes against. During the discussion and adoption procedure, individuals, civil society organisations and representatives of the Council of Europe expressed concerns regarding the amendment, which affects the right to asylum and international law .

3 February - At the informal summit of the EU held in Malta Slovenian Prime Minister Miro Cerar called for action against smugglers, and stated the opening of a migrant route through the Adriatic Sea towards Istria. Up until 8 February declaration of the existence of migrant route over Adriatic Sea towards Istria was denied by the Ministry of the Interior, Minister for foreigner affairs Karl Erjavec, the Croatian Prime Minister Plenković and President of the Republic of Slovenia Borut Pahor. IOM Slovenia also confirmed that it doesn't possess data on new migration route to Istria forming in the Adriatic Sea.

4 February - The Amendment to the Aliens Act steps into force. The new amendment enables banning migrants who do not meet entry requirements from entering the country and returning those who have crossed into the country irregularly. The Police would also apply the measure when a migrant expressed the intention to seek asylum when wanting to enter irregularly or has crossed irregularly from another safe EU country. The measure would not apply if the migrant's life was in danger or when at serious risk of being subject to torture, inhumane, humiliating treatment or punishment in the country referred to, or due to health reasons. It would also not apply for migrants assessed to be unaccompanied minors.

15. ABOUT THIS REPORT: DTM IN THE MEDITERRANEAN AND BEYOND

IOM's Displacement Tracking Matrix (DTM) is a suite of tools and methodologies designed to track and analyse human mobility in different displacement contexts, in a continuous manner.

In order to gather and disseminate information about the migrant populations moving through the Mediterranean, up the Western Balkan Route and through the Northern Route into Europe, in September 2015 DTM established a Flow Monitoring System. The Flow Monitoring System includes this weekly flows compilation, which provides an overview of migration flows in countries of first arrival and other countries along the route in Europe, and analysis of trends across the affected region. The data on registered arrivals is collated by IOM through consultations with ministries of interior, coast guards, police forces, and other relevant national authorities.

The system also includes flow monitoring surveys to capture additional and more in-depth data on the people on the move, including age, sex, areas of origin, levels of education, key transit points on their route, motives, and intentions. This data has been captured by IOM field staff in Greece, the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, Serbia, Hungary, Croatia, Italy, Bulgaria and Slovenia since October 2015. The analysis of data collected throughout 2016 is available on the IOM portal for Mediterranean. The latest report of the "Analysis: Flow Monitoring Surveys in the Mediterranean and Beyond" (as of 8 December 2016) is available here. An Overview of DTM activities in the Mediterranean in 2016 is available here.
